1. INTRODUCTION

This document aims to help WEA Ramblers Sydney provide participants in the Clubs' activities with an experience that is as safe as reasonably possible. It also aims to minimize the risk of legal actions and to demonstrate that we are managing risks to a reasonable extent, thus reducing the likelihood of a rise in insurance premiums.

This document:

- establishes a risk management framework for WEA Ramblers Sydney
- formulates standard documents
- formulates standard procedures, and
- complements the Bushwalking NSW 'Bushwalkers' Code' (revised February 2004) which covers ethical considerations.

These guidelines cover only risks to health, safety of persons and damage to property, i.e., those events that fall within the ambit of public liability. They do not, for instance, cover risks associated with any financial mismanagement. As a result, the risk management processes outlined in this document are the minimum that a prudent Club should adopt.

2. DUTY OF CARE

Duty of Care is your legal duty to take reasonable care so that others are not harmed. Duty of care requirements relevant to New South Wales are set out in the *Civil Liability Act 2002 (NSW)*¹.

This Act describes duty of care as a legal duty to take precautions against risk of harm to others. The Act also set some limits on duty of care obligations. The risks need to be foreseeable and significant, and precautions need only be those that a reasonable person in the person's position would have taken. In any claim, the onus of proof is on the claimant.

The Act exempts volunteers from personal liability for harm or omissions, provided the volunteer did not act dishonestly, recklessly or in a defamatory manner, was not drunk or using drugs, and acted within the organisation's scope and instructions². The liability for any harm or omissions thus normally falls on to the Club, rather than on the leader or committee member or other volunteer.

The Act provides Clubs with a greater range of defensive arguments against a liability claim³. One of these defensive arguments is that the Club warned the claimant of the risks involved in the Club's activities⁴ – hence the importance of requiring participants to sign a statement that acknowledges risks.

² Civil Liability Act 2002 (NSW) - Sections 59 to 66. Civil Law (Wrongs) Act 2002 (A.C.T) Sections 6, 7 and 8.

³ Including Civil Liability Act 2002 (NSW) – Sections 5F, 5G, 5H, 5I

⁴ Civil Liability Act 2002 (NSW) – Section 5 M

3. AIMS OF A RISK MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

A risk management program aims to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all participants in all activities, and that:

- all participants understand their roles and responsibilities
- all participants are aware of the risk management strategies
- risk management guidelines are adhered to, and improved and revised after any near misses
- risk management guidelines are reviewed on a regular basis
- training and/or mentoring needs are identified and implemented as necessary, and
- emergency plans are formulated and communicated to members.

These aspects are addressed in the relevant sections of these guidelines.

4. SETTING UP A RISK MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

Risk Management is a four step process:

Step 1: Identify hazards

Step 2: Assess risks

Step 3: Manage risks

Step 4: Review.

4.1 Identifying hazards

A hazard is a situation with the potential for harm to life, health or property - for example bush fire, extreme heat and flooded rivers.

4.2 Assessing risks

A risk is the chance of this potential for harm being realised. Risk can be assessed by identifying the risks that arise from a hazard, considering the likelihood of a risk occurring and, if it does occur, what the likely consequences of it might be. This process of assessment can be documented formally by rating the likelihood of risks and their consequences. While this is not absolutely necessary, it assists and documents the identification of hazards relevant to activities and helps when deciding if and when appropriate risk management strategies are necessary. Documentation of the identification of hazards, risks, likelihood of the risk and the consequences of the risk assist when reviewing risk management guidelines at a later date.

Appendix 1 gives the risk management table prepared by WEA Ramblers Sydney for use by its members. The risks identified are a sample of those encountered but cannot be deemed to include all possible risks, many of which may be unforeseen at this stage.

4.3 Controlling and managing risks

Risk management methods include assigning responsibilities, developing procedures, addressing particular circumstances such as the presence of children on activities, analysing incidents, and training. These methods are outlined below.

4.4 Reviewing risks

It is recommended that WEA Ramblers Sydney reviews its Risk Management plans regularly, preferably on an annual basis.

5. ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES WITHIN WEA RAMBLERS SYDNEY

5.1 Club office bearers

To minimise risks:

- promote to members the importance of managing risk and of developing a culture of safety within the Club
- implement a risk management plan, taking into account the recommendations provided in the Bushwalking NSW Risk Management Guidelines document and make all members aware of the plan
- minimise risks by using documented procedures and standard forms
- remind participants of their responsibility for their own safety and their duty of care to others
- provide encouragement and assistance to leaders in minimising risks
- provide Bushwalking NSW with suggested improvements to risk management practices and share information
- consider documenting particular aspects of participants' responsibilities, for example, towards children on Club activities
- consider assigning particular responsibilities to members covering, for example, Member Induction, Leader Training and Incident Review
- schedule a meeting after club office-bearers change to hand over risk management to incoming officers, and
- schedule a review annually of the club's risk management procedures and forms, and refresh all office-bearers' awareness of risk management plans.

5.2 Walk leaders

To minimise risks:

- assess the risks relating to their activity and comply with the Club's risk management requirements and operating procedures
- provide information to all potential participants in an activity to assist them in assessing their ability to complete the walk safely
- ensure that all walkers complete the appropriate Attendance Sheet: Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligations

- explain procedures and risks to new members and help them to select walks suitable to their abilities, and
- have a knowledge of the contents of the document Leading Walks – A Guide for New and Existing Leaders and follow its advice.

5.3 Club members, including temporary members

To minimise risks:

- inform the leader of any medical condition which may affect their participation in a walk
- take responsibility for their own health and safety
- exercise a duty of care to all other participants
- ensure that they have the capacity, health and fitness levels, and equipment appropriate to the walks they undertake
- follow all Club operating procedures
- assist leader to minimise risks
- sign a risk waiver form on joining and prior to each walk (see Section 7), and
- read and follow the advice contained in the document Walking with Ramblers – A Guide for Members.

WEA Ramblers Sydney allows Temporary Members to participate in 3 walks within an 8 week period before being required to become a full member by paying the appropriate membership fee.

The Club's Temporary Members are covered under the current Public Liability policy, provided the Temporary Members have signed the recommended Attendance form for Temporary Members: Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligations. (Appendix 3). The insurer requires that the constitution or rules of each insured member Club contains a provision for Temporary Membership.

6. CLUB PROCEDURES

To minimise risk:

- minimum requirements for content of walk descriptions include grading, length in kilometres and/or time, height gained and lost (where relevant and available), terrain, exposure and risks associated with a particular walk. An example 'Good Walk Description' may be a helpful guide for leaders
- walkers to wear appropriate footwear and carry food, water, clothing and equipment appropriate for the particular walk
- guidelines for leaders and participants, including advice on the roles of both leaders and participants in keeping a party together Refer to:
 - Leading Walks: a guide for new and existing leaders
 - Walking with Ramblers: a guide for members

- rules on which types of activity should be cancelled and when e.g. the Club may require all non-urban activities to be cancelled during a Total Fire Ban – refer to above guides
- pre-walk registration
- an approval/mentoring process for new walk leaders
- procedures for Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligation forms (see Section 7)
- incident reporting procedures and training (see Sections 9 and 10).

7. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RISKS AND OBLIGATIONS

In line with Bushwalking NSW recommendations, WEA Ramblers Sydney requires participants in walks to sign the appropriate Attendance Sheet: Acknowledgement of Risk and Obligations form shown in Appendix 2, 3, 4 and 5. These forms are to be signed prior to each walk.

This recommendation aims to help:

- participants understand that the walks they undertake with the Club carry risks
- participants understand the nature of the risks that a walk poses, allowing them to voluntarily accept those risks
- protect the Club against a liability claim, and
- demonstrate to insurers that the Club manages risks through standard procedures, thus reducing the likelihood of a rise in insurance premiums.

The inclusion of an emergency contact column in the Attendance Sheet for Members and Acknowledgement of Risk and Obligations form and in the similar form for Temporary Members is provided so that emergency contact information is immediately available to the leader if necessary.

8. GUIDELINES ON SOME SPECIFIC MATTERS

8.1 Minimum numbers

As indicated in Leading Walks: a guide for new and existing leaders, there must be a minimum of three (3) (including the leader) in urban areas, four (4) walkers in bushland if there is known mobile phone coverage and five (5) where mobile phone coverage is either absent or unknown. Unless these conditions are met, the walk will not be regarded as an authorised Club walk, and so will not be covered by the Club's public liability insurance.

8.2 Children on Club activities

Bushwalking NSW recommends that, if a child is accepted on a Club walk, the Club requires the child to be accompanied by a responsible adult.

Leaders of Club walks have a higher duty of care to children because children can't fully understand the risks of an activity and therefore can't minimise them. Leaders must keep in mind that there will be a significant range of physical ability, fitness, experience and common sense across a range of different minors. Leaders should gain an understanding before commencing any activity of the level of experience, fitness, etc, of any child undertaking the walk. If any issues are identified in respect to the child's suitability for a particular walk then either the child should not be allowed to participate, or additional risk mitigation measures should be taken to protect the child. For example, on a particularly challenging section, an experienced walker might walk in front and another behind the child.

Children cannot enter into contracts, so a legal guardian must sign the Attendance Sheet for a Child: Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligations (Appendix 4) on behalf of the child.

With respect to the relevant legal, insurance, and Club governance context the following points are relevant:

- the Working with Children checks are not required for activities where the child is accompanied by a parent or guardian
- the WEA Sydney has no objection to under 18s joining a WEA Ramblers Sydney walk
- our CBW insurance covers under 18s, provided a specific risk waiver form is signed on behalf of the child by their parent or guardian, and
- the WEA Ramblers Constitution states 'Membership of the Club is open to any person over the age 18 who agrees to be bound by this Constitution.' (S.3.1) There are no other written references to age in either this document, or in the Club's policy documents, Walking with Ramblers: a guide for members and Leading Walks: a guide for new and existing leaders.

8.3 People with disabilities

Bushwalking NSW encourages member Clubs to welcome walkers with a disability, such as people with limited vision, to join activities provided that their safety and that of the group is ensured and they are accompanied by a carer if necessary. Some Club walks will be unsuitable for people with some disabilities. It is not discrimination to refuse participation to someone a leader believes cannot safely complete an activity. Clubs are under no obligation to provide carers for participants with a disability, though individual Club members may choose to do so.

In addition, some people with an intellectual disability attending walks may have difficulty in providing their informed consent through the standard WEA Ramblers Sydney - Attendance Sheet Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligations process for Members or Temporary Members. Where this is the case, the person's guardian or other substitute decision-making 'person responsible' will be required to sign, on their behalf, the WEA Ramblers Sydney – Attendance Sheet and Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligations: Adults who are unable to give informed consent themselves (Appendix 5) for each walk attended.

8.4 Communication

WEA Ramblers should develop tools to ensure effective communication of the risk management program to all members. The Club should consider encouraging formal or informal discussions among members on topics related to risk management.

8.5 Non-insured activities

When WEA Ramblers undertakes activities that are not covered by their insurance policy they are advised to consider what additional or special actions might need to be taken to manage the risk.

One example is overseas trips. Bushwalking NSW strongly recommends that Clubs require leaders and participants of any overseas trip to self-insure for the trip, choosing a policy that includes public liability coverage as well as medical coverage.

8.6 Privacy of information

WEA Ramblers needs to collect information on its membership but respects and protects the privacy of this information as required by law.

9. RESPONDING TO INCIDENTS

Walk leaders should report incidents, in writing, using the Incident Report Form (Appendix 6) to the Club's President. 'Incidents' include accident and injury to persons requiring medical attention, missing persons, theft, fire and damage to property. The Committee should review all incident reports and should consider whether anything can be done to reduce the likelihood of similar incidents in future. Wider discussions between Clubs may be useful.

10. TRAINING

The Training Officer is in charge of the organisation of training for the club. Training is an important way of managing risk. Navigation ability at a level appropriate to the activity and first aid knowledge are two important types of training. Mentoring of new leaders and new Club members by experienced leaders and long-time members is the most common method of training. Relevant guidelines should be provided to new members and leaders. Training sessions for leaders are to be held when required.

Training given by Club members is unlikely to become a basis for a liability claim provided:

- the training or mentoring was provided by Club members for Club purposes
- there was no charge for the training, other than recovery of any costs such as transport or materials
- the trainers did not represent themselves as qualified or professional, and
- the trainees received no accreditation or certification.

11. MEMBER EMERGENCY MEDICAL INFORMATION

Some Club members may wish to carry information about their medical conditions. This is entirely optional. For those members who wish to do this, a suitable form is provided in Appendix 7.
